

Building and Maintaining a Culture of Safety in a Research Facility

Academic-Professional Security Series

Hosted by:
UGA Office of Biosafety
UGA Environmental Safety Division
UGA Office of Security and Emergency Preparedness
UGA Center for International Trade and Security

Tuesday, February 10, 2009
2:00 – 3:00 pm, Room 175
Coverdell (Auditorium)

(Open to the public and no registration required)

Speaker: Dr. David DeJoy, UGA College of Public Health

Topics:

Examples of instances where a breakdown in safety culture had harmful results

Examples of high functioning organizations: Attributes of the high functioning organizations

The tension between safety and productivity

The effect of complexity of maintaining a culture of safety

- Complex Organizations
- Complex Tasks
- Complex Environment

Contact: John Newton jmnewton@uga.edu or (706) 542-5845

The University of Georgia Office of Security and Emergency Preparedness
Phone (706) 542-5845 | Fax (706) 542-4664 | Email: osep@uga.edu | Web site: www.osep.uga.edu